

Pedro Soler & Gaspar Claus “Barlande”

infiné

US

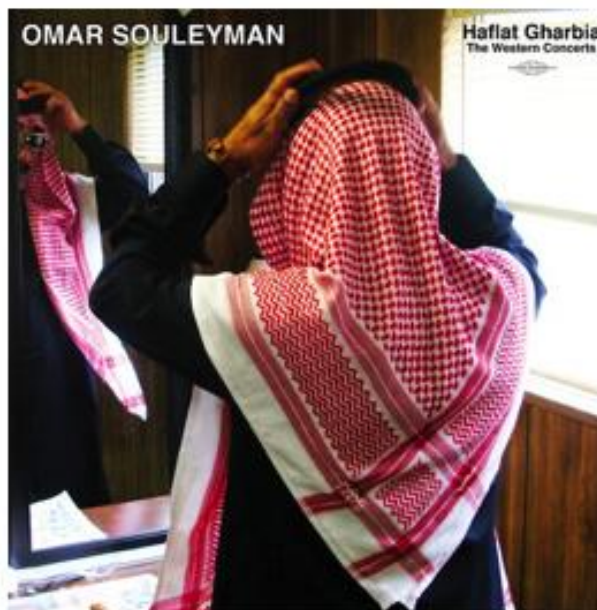

PITCHFORK_Feature_August_2011

monday, august 8

News in Brief: Omar Souleyman, Brian
Jonestown Massacre, Alias, Gaspar Claus &
Pedro Soler

Tweet 19 Like 15

-- Syrian electronic folk-pop singer Omar Souleyman will release a live album, Haflat Gharbia (The Western Concerts), on August 30 via Sublime Frequencies. The collection highlights live performances in Europe, Australia, and the U.S. between 2009 and this year.

-- Psych-rock rabblers the Brian Jonestown Massacre will release the double-disc The Singles Collection (1992-2011), for an August 30 release on a Records/Redeye Distribution. The set features 14 songs previously unavailable on CD, as well as a 24-page booklet detailing the front and back of the singles' original cover art.

-- Playful electronic producer Brendon Whitney, aka Alias, has a new album, Fever Dream, coming out August 30 on Anticon. Listen to "Wanna Let It Go" over at Forkcast.

-- Flamenco artist Pedro Soler and his cello-playing son Gaspar Claus are releasing an album together, Barlande, August 30 on Infiné. Sufjan Stevens and the National's Bryce Dessner contribute, while Dessner also produced the album.

Posted by Larry Fitzmaurice on August 8, 2011 at 4:35 p.m.