InFine will release French duo Spitzer's debut album, The Call on September 3rd.

Until recently Spitzer—AKA the brothers Mattieu and Damien Bregère—had only one full EP to their name, 2010's Roller Coaster, to go with a few compilation appearances and remixes for the likes of Kylie Minogue and Sally Shapiro. Aside from "Too Hard to Breathe," a track featuring vocalist Kid A taken from that first EP, The Call is made up of new, mostly techno-oriented material, and it shows an expansion in sound highlighted by plenty of reverb-heavy synth and guitar work. An extended version of "Sergen" was recently put out on vinyl; the album itself will come out via CD and digital formats.

Tracklist

01. Marsch
02. Madigan
03. Clunker feat. Fab of Frustration
04. Breaking the Wave
05. The Call
06. Too Hard to Breathe feat. Kid A
07. Sergen
08. Masbat
09. Sir Chester
10. Vor

InFine Music will release The Call on September 3rd, 2012.
